10" Hanging Basket Varieties:

Osteospermum

These come into bloom from planting until hard frost. Osteospermum are very versatile plants. They thrive in sun or partial shade. However they are also heat and drought resistant and tolerant of semi-cold conditions.

Offered in assorted colours only. Colour assortment leans towards Purple, Mauves, and Light Blues.

Pansy

Pansies are generally very cold hardy plants surviving freezing even during their blooming period. These plants grow well in sunny or partially sunny conditions. Pansies bloom spring through early summer.

Petunia Supertunia

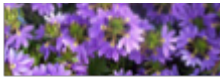

Supertunia's remain attractive from spring planting until the first frost in fall. The plants grow upright, yet they also cascade. Supertunia's like full sun and grow compact and uniform.

Scaevola

Originally introduced from Australia, Scaevola can tolerate bright light and warm southern exposure. Scaevola is a trailing variety that will bloom until frost. Ideal blooming conditions would be full sun.

Calibrachoa (Million Bells)

Although Calibrachoa loves bright sun and heat it will perform well in both full sun and indirect sun. This is a trailing variety that will produce hundreds of flowers. Calibrachoa will continue blooming up to the first hard freeze.

Begonia - Non Stop

Non Stop Begonias have proven performance outside in semi-shaded areas. With fully double flowers and bright colour, this variety of Begonia has a nice mounding habit and is fairly wind resistant.
